To Whom It May Concern:

I am honored to write a letter of recommendation in support of Nathan Beers' application to graduate school. The application process for our internship program is competitive. We've seen many interns come through our office but Nathan has been, by far, one of our best.

Nathan worked as a legislative intern under my supervision in 2015, and it was a privilege having him intern in my office. He held many office responsibilities and demonstrated that he can work well independently or with other as a situation requires.

His responsibilities ranged from general administrative duties such as helping constituents resolve problems, to researching and providing analysis of legislation. This work required him to contact and discuss the details of laws and policies with other state agencies. He also interacted directly with constituents through email or over the phone and used his strong communications skills, one of Nathan's biggest strengths, to bring resolution to constituents' issues with state government. Indeed, Nathan was one of the best writers we've ever had in our office. His way with the written word always impressed me and my staff.

While working in my office, Nathan did a tremendous job balancing his office responsibilities with his demanding schedule at school and extracurricular activities. More specifically, he attended school at Michigan State University, excelled as a student there, all while learning Russian. Nathan proved very capable of managing his time while still being able to handle his priorities.

Nathan has demonstrated the character and work ethic that I am confident will lead to success in his studies and subsequent career. He is a dedicated and determined individual. His initiative, reliability and consistency demonstrate the highest level of commitment and a strong work ethic. Through his professionalism, motivation and desire to learn, Nathan Beer has earned my highest recommendation for acceptance into the incoming class of your prestigious institution.

Sincerely,

Jeremy Moss
